Compton Captures Consolation Cap-A Great Field in Handicap—Englewood Beats North Jersey—Matches at Nassau—Amateur Championship Announcements - Other Events.

With everything flowing in harmony and hurrahs the annual tournament at the picturesque links of the Knollwood Country Club wound up yesterday in a sporting way. In the final for the President's cup Charles H. Seeley beat Maturin Ballou by 10 up and 9 to play, the vent having been extended to thirty-six holes. doing the second round in 75, a stroke below the mark established by Walter J. Travers two years ago, and he made the first round in 77. His success, although so grandly won, illustrated anew the vagaries of golfing form, for on Friday Ballou put out Martin, who a fortnight since beat Seeley for the Connecticut State championship at Wee Burn. On that occasion

"Danged if I can play on a short course! Ballou and Seeley have often met in team matches and the honors have fluctuated beween them. Consequently Ballou did not suffer from any stage fright or green shyness yes-Ballou simply could not get up his approach Ballou simply could not get up his approach plays, while Seelev, with only one 7, was going in great shape. But in the afternoon Ballou made a 77, yet it was of no more use than breaking sticks, for Seeley reeled off a 75. At Wee Burn and in the Metropolitan tournament at Nasau Country, Seeley could not put, but yesterday he sent the balls banging into the holes in a most magical way. The cards:

In the Consolation cup final, also at thirtyaix holes, Compton beat Douglas by 5 up and 4 was also a handicap decided for a cup presented by Paul Gibert Thebaud. He did not compete, for, as the donor, Thebaud thought it nicer to serve with Howard Willets as scorer.

Seeley, besides the first cup, captured both the gross and net prizes in the handicap. The STAMFORD. June 23.—This was a big day for the Wee Burn Golf Club not only at the links at Noroton as well as at Knollwood, where C. H. Seeley carried off everything in sight. A match was played between Wee Burn and Apawamis, and the home players won by 18 to 4. It was an interesting coincidence that Seeley, who always heads the Wee Burn team and Ballou, head man for Apawamis, should be playing in the final round of a tournament on other links. There was the biggest crowd of the season at the clubhouse, and the news of Seeley's victory seemed to accentuate the win from the Apawamis team. Aside from the team match, interest centred in a reception to Miss Genevieve Hecker, metropolitan champion. Miss Hecker was presented with a pin. The presentation was made by John D. Crimmins, President of the club. The scores:

Boston, June 23.—The international match between the Country Club team of eleven players and a team from the Royal Montreal Club was played at the Clyde Park links to-day, the visitors being easily defeated by a total score of 40 to 7. The match between J. G. Thorp of the Country Club and J. P. Taylor of the visitors turnished the surprise of the day. Thorp is considered a strong match player and last year was on the all-American team at Morristown, but Taylor, who is captain of the Canadian team, defeated him by the high score of 6 up. Entries for the amateur championship close to-morrow evening at 6 o'clock with R. Bage Kerr, 26 Broad street. George L. Hubbell, secretary of the Garden City Golf Club, says that the club is experiencing difficulty in securing scorers for the first day. This is a most important matter, for without scorers the championship would be drifting backward instead of being, as all Easterners hope, the very best yet held. The Garden City Golf Club will esteem it a favor if members of U. S. G. A. clubs who have planned to take in the qualifying round of the championship, will volunteer to act as scorers. Those who will be willing to extend this courtesy to the Garden City Club should at once so notify Mr. Hubbell.

There is no hotel at Garden City now, since the hotel fire, and many of those who intend to play would stop at Long Beach, if they were sure of a reliable train service. If golfers to the number of fifty will inform Mr. Hubbell that they intend to stop at Long Beach the Long Island Railroad Company will arrange for a special train from the Beach to the links. Those who intend to stop at Long Beach, like all who are willing to serve as scorers, should write at once to Mr. Hubbell.

SIDNEY LUCAS IN

by Four Lengths.

CHICAGO, June 23.-Sidney Lucas, Thompson Brothers' colt, by imp. Top Gallant-Addie C., ridden by Bullman, won the American Derby from six starters in the presence of 25,000 persons to-day, and incidentally earned $9.625 for his owner. He was the outsider in the betting, odds of 20 to 1 having been laid against his chance with few takers. James, W. M. Barrick's colt, was second, and the much advertised Lieut. Gibson, the even money favorite, was third. The race was a disappointment to the crowd, because in the first place the heavily backed favorite did not win, and in the second place there was little or no contest, Sidney Lucas winning by four open lengths from James, who was the same dis-tance ahead of Lieut. Gibson. Barrick, the fourth horse, was three lengths back and an equal distance ahead of Advance Guard, while Sam Phillips was beaten off and pulled up.

Probably the best horse won the thirteenth renewal of the great Western classic, but the track was heavy. There was a dry path near the rail which the first three horses held for a time during the contest while the others were break Starter Dwyer dropped the flag to a good start. Rounding the first turn Lieut. Gibson was in the lead, closely followed by James, Sam Phillips and Sidney Lucas. This order was maintained passing the stand and a great cheer arose when the crowd recognized the all purple of the favorite in front. But he did not seem to be able to get far away, although the pace was slow. Going around the clubhouse turn James took the lead and from that time on Gibson could not regain it. At the last turn it appeared that James, Sidney Lucas and Gibson were head and head, but, straightened out for the run home, Sidney Lucas quickly took the lead. Hugging the rail he forged ahead and, hard ridden, increased his lead at every jump until the wire was passed. The crowd had gone to Washington Park to have a good time and many believed it orthodox to cheer the winner of the Perby, so when Bullman brought his mount back to the stand there was an outburst of applause, but it was not prolonged and was rather the expression of exuberance than enthusiasm.

The seven pounds penalty carried by Lieut. Gibson is offered as an excuse for the defent, but the appearance of the colt was a disappointment to many. He looked drawn, and it may be he has been worked too much. The result of the race made a harvest for the bookmakers.

may be he has been worked too much. The result of the race made a harvest for the bookmakers.

Owing to bad management thousands of nersons were forced to turn back because the force of ticket sellers was too small to handle them. At each window there was a line two blocks long for two hours or more, and many persons did not get inside the gates until the hour for the Derby arrived. The arrangements in the betting ring were poor. The bookmakers worked on stools, which were constantly being overturned by the crowding of anxious betters. They could not handle the cash, and the only solace the bookmakers had was that they could take money at any price they choose. The judges failed to ring the off bell when the horses started in the fourth race, and several bookmakers were still taking bets after the horses had finished and the winning numbers were up. The other races of the day furnished good sport and two favorites won. Summaries:

Club's spring meeting brought out a large half holiday crowd to Sheepshead Bay yesterday. Two overnight handicaps and two stakes helped to make up a card of exceptional merit, but successful favorites were as elusive as usual and only two earned brackets. Weather and track conditions were again perfect and the sport was highly interesting from start to finish. started matters pleasantly for plungers who had the nerve to play her down to even money n a field of thirteen. The race was down the last five furlongs of the Futurity course and they hove into view with the second choice, Ondurdis, showing the way. O'Connor made won with a lot of speed in reserve, by a head. Annie Thompson, one of the despised outsiders, hung on in third position and shut Welsh Girl out of a length. The winner was entered to be sold for $900, a figure which Mike Clancy considered so small that he bid $1,500. The owner protected his filly and retained her after the Irish King stopped at $1,700. It was an expensive victory for the new flyer and she is likely to be entered closer to her actual value

A highweight handicap followed and W. S. Vosburgh had done his work so well that form students were guessing up to the last moment. Even then they could not decide between Ordeal and Montanic and a few switched off to Andrisa. His Royal Highness, at 20 to 1, sprinted away with the speed of his noted progenitor, but Maher caught him in the stretch with Maribert and scored a popular win for Pierre Lorillard, by a length. Phil Dwyer's colt struggled through a length in front of Montanic, who beat Charlie Dwyer's colt a head. With a luckier break Trumpet might have won.

This paved the way for the Surf Stakes, a dash down the last five and a half furlongs of the Futurity course. Eight smart two-yearolds jogged up to the starter. Pierre Lorillard adding Ganymede. 119 pounds, after John E. Madden had with drawn his fearfully named Falsetto second choice, Outlander, made things hum for a furlong or so but then Watercolor simply galloped over his field winning with consummateease by a length from Smile who finished an equal distance in front of Outlander. Contend, who ran away from Watercolor a few

The second of the June handicaps was easily by adding Firearm, 124 pounds. Outside of Jean Beraud Imp was most fancied, and holiday enthusiasts blushingly nibbled at the 6 to an endless following, while old Bendoran, one of the fastest sprinters in the country, went begging at 20 to 1. Bendoran spreadeagled his field for over seven furlougs, and looked like coming home alone, but the Sir Modred horse tired badly in the last hundred yards and Greyfeld came through on a zig-zag course like a wild horse, in time to win by half a length.

Plato, Trillion and The Bachelor raced in close order to the second last fence from home where Plato fell. The Bachelor came to the final obstacle slightly in force from home where Plato fell. The Bachelor came to the final obstacle slightly in front of Trillion and crossed him badly in landing. In trying to squeeze through Trillion brushed Hogan off the favorite and the lockey was dragged along and trampled on for thirty yards. Trillion came home practically alone, Ochiltree cantering in after a long interval with his remounted stable mate, Plato, next. Marals injuries were chiefly around the shoulder and collarblade and after surgical treatment he was removed to his home in a semiconsclous condition. Hogan escaped with an easier shaking up than he was entitled to in the opinion of favorite players who watched his ride.

Proposed Special Sweepstakes Declared Off. The scheme for what promised to be the greatest special race ever held among thoroughbreds in this country ended yesterday as it started some weeks ago, in wind. As told in THE SUN, owners and trainers of rival aspirants for the all-age championship had been talking so much that the Coney Island Jockey talking so much that the Coney Island Jockey Club decided to put their sincerity to a crucial test. They were invited to enter at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a sweerstakes of $5,000 a corner, play or pay, with $5,000 adedd, for three-year-olds and upward, at weight for age, one mile and a quarter. When the eventful hour arrived there was no response but the club as a last resource sutstituted a race of $50 each with $1,500, the other conditions to remain the same. The substitute event also failed to fill at the hour set, 4 o'clock, and abruptly wound up a story which was expected to furnish one of the brightest chapters in racing history. Imp was said to be the stumbling thock but her trainer and part owner is not b'amed as she had a hard race yesterday and is engaged in a very important race next Saturday.

At Latonia.

Cincinnati, June 23.—June Gayle proved that he was a good two-year-old at Latonia to day when he won the Covington Spring Stakes, worth $690 to the winner, in an easy manner from Sam Lyons. Gayle was the odds-on tavorite in the briting, with Mensee and Great Star equal second choles, while Sam Lyons was as good as 16 to 1. Gayle went to the front early and won as he pleased, while Sam Lyons showed his heels to Menace three lengths away. Great Star never figured. The J. D. Smith stable also captured other laurels. In the second race, Tom Embry easily won at five furlongs from the odds-on favorite, Bonnie Lissak, while Syncopated Sandy, second choice, was third. Embry went to the post at 5 to 1. Summaries:

At St. Louis.

At St. Louis.

St. Louis, June 23.—An all-day rain cut down the attendance at the races and transformed the track into a sea of mud to day. There were seven events, one the Junior Championshir, but even this could not enthuse the crowd as they watched the horses through a steady downpour. The favorite, Queen Dixon, captured the stake seemingly without effort. Summaries:

First Race—Six and a half furlongs—Also Ran 11. 104 (Woods), 7 to 5, won; Miss Loretta, 91 (Dominick), 2 to 1, second; Mascagni, 106 (Carroll), 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:23½.

Second Race—One mile and three-sixteenths—Sadle Levy, 106 (Falleh) 4 to 1, won; Hungry Hill, 108 (Hennessey), 8 to 1, second; Kosclo, 108 (Talley), 10 to 1, third. Time, 2:09½.

Third Race—One mile—Myth, 108 (Morse), 2 to 1 won; Muskalonge, 111 (Hennessy), 4 to 1, second; Elbe, 87 (Dominick), 3 to 2, third. Time, 1:45½; Fourth Race—Junior Championship Stake; six furlongs—Queen Dixon, 118 (Dominick), 3 to 5, won; Ampere, 118 (Gilmore), 2 to 1, second; Sard, 115 (Frost), 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:75?

Fifth Race—One and a sixteenth miles—Crocket, 96 (Dominick), 6 to 5, won; Apple Jack, 90 (McGinn), 4 to 1, second; Guide Rock, 103 (Talley), 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:52.

ENGLEWOOD, June 23.—There were over seven hundred persons at the races of Englewood Driving Park this afternoon. The horse of C. Cole of New Bridge defeated the crack stepper of W. H. MacKenste of Englewood the best two out of three heats in the 2:2-class. The 2:30 class was won by Jacob Bogert's Postmaster over a field of four horses.

Parkersburg, June 23.—"Chick" Lowe of Kansas Cl.y. a J. ckey o the Southern Circuit, was run over by the east-bound express on the Baltimore and Oblo Haliroad this morning near Jackson, and nad one foot cut off and the oth r badly mashed. He was sleeping alongside the track in company with four other Jockeys at the time of the accident. The men were in route to Sheepsheal Bay. Lowe was brought to the hospital here.

CREWS SCRAP ON THE THAMES.

Brushes With the Freshmen. GALES FERRY, June 23 .- None of the crews went below the Naval Station to-day, but there afternoon on the upper two miles of the course. Yale's two eights were ready for a brush shortly before 10 o'clock, and Dr. Gallaudet and Gordon Brown, the coaches, followed the boats on the launch when they started. The wind was more brisk than usual and the tide was with the boats. An even start was made, but the 'Varsity could only gain a couple of seconds at the half mile, and when the mile flag was reached the freshies were still in the race, but had fallen back a boat's length. The freshmen ceased rowing after covering the mile, while the 'Varsity boat and launch continued down the course to the second mile stake before stoeping.

Harvard's carsmen were watching the exhibition from Red Top and Yale's time was caught at 2 minutes 30 seconds for the half mile and 5 minutes 5 seconds for the mile. The Harvard men freely express their opinion that Yale has clever crews this year that will be hard to beat. Auchinicoss will be unable to row in the freshman boat this year on account of a severe strain. Sargent, who is in Auchinicoss's soat at 6, will be in the boat when the race is rowed next Thursday morning. Hooker continues to stroke the 'Varsity four oar, but the crew did not develop much speed this morning when Dr. Gallaudet gave the quartette a two-mile speed test. The first mile was caught at 5 minutes 50 seconds and the two miles at 11 minutes 50 seconds. Yale men do not say much about this crew, but believe it is at least as good as the Harvard four.

Yale's 'Varsity crew has shown considerable improvement during the week and Dr. Gallaudet gave the quartette at worked hard with every individual oarsman. When asked as to how the crew is progressing he invariably replies that they are far from perfect and that at times the result of the practice is very discouraging. On the other hand the old time oarsmen about Gales Ferry, who have seen many crews rounded into form, do not agree with the coach. Harvard's crews were on the course a short while this morning, Hartwell was back at bow in the freshman boat to-day and Capt. Reberts was a gain put in at stroke. Gentlemen:—At forty my hair and mustache began turning gray. A friend on my road lost his place because his gray hair made him look older than he was. Profiting by his experience, I began using Hay's Hair-Health, with the result that I have the same dark-brown curly hair that I had at 21, and no one suspects it. In a recent discharge of employees I held my position, although many younger than myself, whose unly fault was their gray hair, were dismissed. I have you to thank for my position. N. J. MINEOLA'S SIXTH VIRGINIA HER ONLY PETITOR THIS TIME. Cornellus Vanderbilt Sends His Seventyto Bristol for Alterations-Fiftythree Yachts Start in the Annual Regatta of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Y. C.

The three days' racing of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club concluded yesterday with the annual club regatta, in which fiftythree yachts started. Light easterly and southeasterly winds prevailed during the afternoon, and the yachts had a test under the conditions over first round of the triangle, but on the second round the wind came from the south and some of the boats got a big lift and others were put well out of the contest. Early in the morning the wind was strong and white caps dotted the waters of the Sound. The Race Committee, W. C. Wetmore, Walter C. Kerr and Johnston de Forest were kept busy issuing instructions to the vachtsmen and making preparations for the regatta. There were seventy-five boats entered, but many of the smaller ones remained in the harbor, their owners doubtless thinking it was too rough outside.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, after Friday's race, de cided that the Rainbow was not in proper trim, and he started back to Bristol to put the boat in Herreshoff's hands again to find out what is wrong with her. The Mineola and Virginia raced together and the Belmont boat won her sixth race by 20 minutes 55 seconds. W. K. Vanderbilt sailed the Virginia as usual, but after the start the Mineola continued to draw away until the finish was reached.

The preparatory signal sounded at 1 o'clock and the vachts sailed the courses used on the two preceding days. The start for the 70-footers was at 1:05 and Capt Wringe as usual sent the Mineola over the line the leading boat. The Virginia crossed 10 seconds behind. Both were on the starboard tack and each carried club topsails, main-ail, jib, forestaysail and No. 2 jib topsail. The first leg was north-northwest and the wind was just aft the beam. The Virginia tried to draw up on the Mincola's weather quarter, and both yachts held so far to the eastward of their course that they were able to start sheets and run to the first mark. The wind got lighter on the Connecticut, shore, and the Virginia seemed to be in the delidrums for a time. The Mincola tecked around the first mark at 1:31:08 and Virginia at 1:33:45.

It was a beat to the next mark, the course being east by north half north. They made a long starboard tack toward Shippan Point and then several short hitches. The windward mark was turned by the Mincola at 2:28:23 and by Virginia at 2:32:30. The course of the next leg to the home mark was southwest by south and big jib topsails were carried. The Mincola finished the first round at 3:06:10 and the Virginia at 3:11:33. On the 114 miles sailed the Mincola had gained 5 minutes 23 seconds. The elapsed times over each leg of the first round were as follows: ried club topsails, main-ail, jib, forestaysail

They gybed around the home stake boat and reached to the first mark on the second round, then they beat to the second mark, and as the wind got higher the Virginia dropped further astern. The Mineola finished before the wind got to the south, but the Virginia was headed off a little and at the end of the race was close hauted. The Mineola finished at 5:11:33 and the Virginia at 5:32:28. The elapsed times on the last round were:

There was a large crowd of sports at the Sampson A. C. last night. In the star bout of night Jack Allen, a colored pugilist of this city, was scheduled meet Jim Mack for twenty rounds at 145 pounds. The latter failed to appear, how-ever, and at the last moment Jack Vance of Bath Beach was substituted. Vance was not in ever, and at the last moment Jack Vance of Bath Beach was substituted. Vance was not in the best physical trim, but made things interesting for the colored man up to the second round. In the third Allen put him down several times and finally knocked him out with a left hook on the jaw.

In the opening bout, Joe Duffy of New York met Dick Foster of Brooklyn, for ten rounds at 115 pounds. The men put up a shashing bout. In the fourth round Duffy swung to the jaw and sent Foster to the boards. Both fought fast in the remaining rounds. The bout was declared a draw. The next "go" was between Jack Bock, colored of Brooklyn, and Dick Barnett of New York, for ten rounds at 140 pounds, Barnett proved to be a slugger. In the second round Bock received a hard joit on the chin which sent him to the boards for a full count. When he got to his feet again Barnett knocked him out with a stomach blow. Charley Kelly and Harry Grady of New York were scheduled to go ten rounds at 110 pounds in the next bout. Grady was over weight and Kelly refused to meet him. Kid Coffee of Brooklyn was substituted. It

Feltz and Hurst Fight a Draw

Tommy Feltz, the young Pole, who was McGovern, showed great form last night at the Greenwood A. C. Feltz met Joe Hurst of this city for twenty rounds at 107 pounds, and the battle was one of the best between little fellows seen this year. Feltz administered a ferce reating to his opponent, but the latter never flinened. Feltz did all the fighting, but Hurst jarred Tommy very often and once put him down. Feltz's work, however, entitled him to the decision, but Eddie Dougherty, the referee, called it a draw. A large crowd was present.

The first preliminary bout was between Aff. O'Hanion of Brooklyn and Bob Paul of New York. The struggle was for ten rounds at 110 rounds. Paul was a trifle overweight. O'Hanelon had things to his liking throughout. In the eighth round Paul hit O'Hanlon below the belt. The blow was a foul one and O'Hanlon got the verdict. Jim Austin, colored, and Harry Fischer of Brooklyn met in the second essay. The limit was ten rounds at catchweights. The pair mixed it up viciously and at the end there was nothing to choose between them. So the decision was a draw. Greenwood A. C. Feltz met Joe Hurst of this

It was decided last night to continue the run of "Quo Vadis" at the New York, instead of ending it with this evening's performance as announced. The play will be kept there another week surely, and perhaps longer. Another change in theatrical plans was made yesterday. "The Cadet Girl" will not be produced at the Casino, owing to a slight disagreement between Mr. Lederer and Mr. Chamberlyn, its producer. The latter would not be able to get the rice on at the Casino before the end of July, so Mr. Lederer will continue "The Rounders" until August, when he will make a production of his own. He is now on his way to London to get "The Casino Giri" ready to show there next month. After that is in running order he will turn his attention to something new for his New York theatre. of "Quo Vadis" at the New York, instead of
